

How Wipfli & Cloud-based ERP Can Improve Manufacturers' Performance

Wipfli has helped manufacturers large and small improve their overall operations using the powerful combination of industry expertise and a cloud-based enterprise resource planning (ERP) solution suit, built on the technology platform NetSuite. We help integrate the wide range of functions within the operation, and measure and improve key performance indicators (KPIs) – because “what gets measured gets improved.”

This infographic presents results of a 2014 survey done by SL Associates of manufacturers using NetSuite. Businesses interviewed shared results on their core business operations since implementing the system. As you'll see below, making NetSuite a part of doing business can result in some impressive improvements.
