

Construction project claims management

Construction and
Real Estate

Put the facts to work and protect your interests

Global commercial and infrastructure projects are costly and complex. Changing plans, site conditions, construction methods, cultural differences and international labor laws don't make things any easier. These projects are rife with the possibility of disputes, from cost overruns to delays to change orders.

As your independent advisor through the dispute resolution process, Wipfli has the knowledge to help make sure that the financial impacts caused by project events are understood and supported.

Our specialized knowledge and experience will help you get the best possible outcomes — no matter where in the world your projects are located.

The truth is there — and we know where to look

Our team members have deep experience in construction and real estate. Many come from the industry, and know how to help owners, developers, contractors and subcontractors while working closely with attorneys.

When Wipfli thoroughly reviews the information surrounding a dispute, our team efficiently and effectively gathers, evaluates and reports the financial and other data you need to prepare and secure your position.

A focused, unbiased approach to resolving disputes

We know how to help you control potential litigation costs while enhancing your project position and maintaining your business reputation. Our comprehensive analysis on your case help you resolve claims quickly, expedite early resolution and reduce future confrontations and disputes.

Building your case

Many negotiations benefit from a formal, well-written report. Wipfli delivers an unbiased report with diligence and accuracy that will withstand litigious scrutiny. If a claim isn't resolved through negotiation, mediation or arbitration, our work is ready to be presented to a judge or jury. If formal proceedings are required, Wipfli CPAs and credentialed forensic analysts are experienced at providing expert testimony at trial.

Less finger-pointing, more deal-making

Because Wipfli is an independent party, our opinions and insights are objective. We assist you with the financial matters so you can spend more time on building the project or maintaining those critical relationships.

Reduce disputes, even before they happen

When you're in the early project-planning stages, Wipfli can help you identify preventative measures and best practices for your contracts and agreements. When we get involved early on, we help you identify and mitigate conflicts quickly. That results in more effective project management throughout the life of the project.

Gain peace of mind

Wipfli professionals have diverse backgrounds in accounting, construction, digital analytics and project management. Our team's international experience includes commercial buildings, hospitals, schools, transportation, infrastructure, stadiums, process plants and power generation projects. That means we are poised to assist on either side of a dispute, whether you are the claimant or defendant.

Wipfli gives you the guidance, insights and facts you need to achieve an equitable outcome.

Let's get started

Whatever your business needs might be, we can help you meet them. Whenever you're ready to reach out, we're here.
