

Construction

A foundation for growth

At Wipfli, we offer the insight and experience to keep your company responsive and moving forward. As specialists in the construction industry, we know your success depends on more than sound financial management.

You need a partner who will help make your business more profitable and sustainable for the long-term.

We offer a high-performance team of professionals who provide proactive, actionable advice across a wide range of business issues that matter most in construction – from job costs to bonding, cash flow, taxes, talent, complex regulations and more.

Here for you, every day

Strong businesses are built on dedication and drive. You should expect no less from your advisors. We pride ourselves on our ability to listen, understand objectives and provide on-point, value-added solutions. Our commitment means we reach out throughout the year, as unwavering advocates and guides, ready to help you unlock your company's full potential.

Specialized construction consulting

Whether you're tackling HR issues, technology or financial operations, you deserve a partner with deep industry experience and an appreciation for your unique challenges.

And we have a long track record of helping construction firms anticipate and adapt to changing market conditions. We provide strategic consulting so you can transform complex industry hurdles into competitive strengths that set you apart as a market leader.

Deep industry insight, when your business is building.

WIPFLI

Build a better tomorrow

Tailored services for your construction company's financial, operational and strategic needs.

Financial advisory

Sound decisions begin with accurate financials. Our accounting and audit services deliver meaningful information you can depend on. Get a clear picture of your business and sector-specific advice on financing, operations, bonding and cash flow. We help you address new accounting standards and stay on top of emerging reporting regulations.

Our team helps ensure high-quality, accurate financial reporting. But we also go further, studying and interpreting the numbers to determine what they are telling us about your business and using that insight to help you make smart business decisions and improve operations.

Tax compliance and reporting

Construction companies face even more tax challenges than most. Our industry specialists consult on tax strategy, including sales and use tax, multi-state tax and nexus obligations. We focus on proactive tax advice and staying ahead of the game with strategies to tackle emerging legislation.

Contract compliance monitoring

Analyze third-party contracts and evaluate key risk areas to ensure activities are conducted according to contract requirements. Identify overpayments and overbillings and pursue cost recovery options without jeopardizing valuable relationships.

Dispute resolution and litigation support

We assist counsel with valuations, damages analysis and related contract and business disputes. Our specialists can translate complex financial information and present it in a compelling way juries and judges understand.

Research and development tax credit

R&D tax credits may be available for the kind of design-build and engineering work you're already doing. R&D tax credits are available when technical challenges require new or improved structures, support systems, construction methods, materials, etc. We help contractors identify tax credit opportunities and substantiate their claims.

Cybersecurity, fraud and risk advisory

From cyberattacks to internal fraud and employee theft, we work with companies to develop effective risk management plans. Defend your business with an integrated approach that combines AI-powered detection tools with human expertise.

Technology consulting

Get the information you need, when and where you need it. We provide an end-to-end CRM solution to coordinate projects, communicate with stakeholders and control your profit. You can also outsource your IT needs to Wipfli or consult our specialists on IT strategy.

Business transition planning

Enhance, renew and recover your corporate value. We provide advisory services to shape your legacy and ease the transition of ownership. Look to Wipfli for succession planning and M&A services, including valuations, transitions and wealth advisory.

Let's get started

Contact us and find out how Wipfli can help your construction company build for the future.

wipfli.com/construction